

THE TIMES OF INDIA, NEW DELHI / NOIDA / GHAZIABAD
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 2017

Lotus Valley International School, Noida celebrated 'Deutschfiesta', the German language day in collaboration with Goethe Institute. The day commenced with an inaugural assembly in which students of classes VI to X presented a German song and a foot tapping number. This was followed by some engaging workshops led by German teachers from various schools. The workshops, which included school bag making,

Lotus Valley International School, Noida

comic strip making, story writing, clay modelling and creative writing, provided students with a hands-on experience of German art, craft & writing skills and also exposed them to the German traditions. The students thanked Goethe Institute for the training and the trivia they received from them. The occasion was graced by school vice principal Indu Yadav, Olaf Schroer, project manager of PASCH, South Asia; Kavita Chhabra, project manager of PASCH & Educational Services; Acheena Kalra, project coordinator of Educational Services and Jakob Sonntag, a volunteer at Goethe Institute.